If you are the least bit serious about woodturning, you can't afford to miss out on all this.

Ray Deyo has extended a 10% discount on non-power tools and supplies on meeting nights at Woodcraft to members only. Another very good reason to join!

Turning Challenge Schedule:

In an effort to demonstrate what we have learned at our meetings the turning challenge the following month will always include items made in accordance with the previous meetings demo and/or items for the current challenge.

May – A drum or a sphere from lessons learned last month.

June –

Program Schedule:

- ♦ May: Matt Birchfield is scheduled to be our guest demonstrator on May 19. He will turn a talking drum. His demo will start sharply at 7:00 and will run for the full 2 hours. He is the President of the Blue Ridge Mountain Woodturners and has demonstrated nationally. He was a featured demonstrator at the 2004 Virginia Woodturners Symposium. He writes: "I've been woodturning since a "fortunate layoff" in the summer of 2000. My interest in turning began because I couldn't afford to buy the drums that I wanted and thought that I'd able to make them myself with a home-made lathe and scrapers. One thing led to another and now I've got the addiction/affliction we all know and love. While I do a lot of architectural turning and even more turning for fun, my income comes from being a Quality and Logistics Manager for a medical imaging equipment refurbisher."
- ♦ Bring your challenge items for display only. All displays will be entered in a drawing for a prize.
- ♦ We will raffle some nice pieces of burl and a piece of black and white ebony donated by Phil Eng

TOTALLY TURNING 2005 will be held in the Empire State Plaza Convention Center in Albany, NY on October 15 and 16. Featured presenters will Stuart Batty, Nick Cook, and Andi Wolfe. Complete information related to the symposium is available on the symposium website WWW.TOTALLYTURNING.COM
