Pens by Don Dillon

Pens are great starter for beginner turners. Don said a mini-lathe, a hurricane, mandrel, bushings, sandpaper and CA glue is all you need to start pen turning. He also wants us to remember to measure-measure-measure as every piece is a different diameter at the end and the pens only go together well in one direction.

Don uses good wood or wood with nice figure. Since one board-foot will yield ~30 pens, go wild and spend money on that exotic wood you always wanted.

To get started: Find 2 pieces of wood, drill a hole centered in each piece, glue in the brass tube (sand first for a better bond) and cut the ends off at 90° (very important step). Next mount the blanks and bushings on the mandrel and fix to the lathe. Rough turn the pen and then saturate the wood with thin CA glue (large pore wood like oak need pore filler). Leave to harden over night. Don finished turning the pen with a skew (Yes, Danny, a skew). He then reverses the blanks (end-for-end) to reduce any wobble problems from the lathe and finished shaping. (DON on P2)

4-H with Phil

Ray provided 7 mini-lathes (Gave us a chuck for our lathe) for Summer Camp which was August 2& 3. All helpers brought tools (3), sheets, towels, and a pillow; food was provided. Twenty-eight intermediate age campers were expected to attempt turning a rolling pins and over a 100 junior campers got all the turned tops. Any extras disappeared into volunteer's pockets. With Phil's help everything worked out as expected and all had lots of fun Now how do we top this next year?

Quick Tips

Height Adjustment for Tool Rest By Dick Hinds

A piece of 2 inch PVC pipe cut to the proper height will save you time when readjusting your tool rest.

(DON From P1)

Finishing: With a paper towel under the wood, saturate the wood with more CA glue, let it dry for 2 minutes then do it again (a timer & fan helps here). After adding 3-4 layers, let it dry overnight. The plastic finish is wet sanded with boiled linseed oil and 300grit, then progressed through 400, 600, 1200, to 2000 grit papers (Buy at the auto body store). Finished with a coat of high gloss polish. Now comes the Beal buffing with diamond rouse and carbana wax.

2006 Virginia Woodturning Symposium November 4th & 5th

This event will feature local and regional demonstrators and is designed to promote the craft of woodturning as well as renew the goodwill of woodturners and prospective woodturners throughout the region. The mission of this event is to provide an environment for networking and education for members of the regional woodturning community and for promotion of the art and craft from the lathe. Through active demonstrations we hope to provide avenues for expression in one's woodturning, as well as introducing non-turners to the craft. Register now on-line
