Richmond Turners at Play

The holiday party was another success with spouses and long lost folks showing up for the food and fun. The decorations were divided among a few turners and we thank them for their efforts. The food was plentiful and a good varieties. Jerry ran the silent auction with Betsy drumming up more action for the orphan goodies. So how much did the club get Jerry?? Club gave Ray & Norma a gift of dinner out on the town for all their support of the club. Barbara took up the "Swap" as her special project. A few soles entered, but we had an odd number which left the odd-one-out with his own turning. Better luck next year when hopefully more will take up the challenge.

Pay your Club Dues

Over the first three months of this year, The Richmond Woodturners will be featuring a "Back to Basics" series for the monthly meetings. This is a great opportunity to invite a friend, woodworker, potential new turner to attend a club meeting with you. This might also be a good opportunity to invite a long time turner we have not seen for a while or get the new woodturning spouse some help.

AAW News on Liability Insurance: For more than 20 years, the American Association of Woodturners has purchased liability insurance that covered both AAW members and AAW chapters for any liability exposure arising from chapter-sponsored events (monthly demos). The cost to AAW ...in 2012 rose to $23,000. Under new terms of proposed insurance for 2013, our premium would rise to more than $175,000 (8X increase) to offer the same coverage to all chapters. Although we have engaged two agents to independently identify a carrier willing to write a policy extending pre-existing liability insurance for our chapters, we have not yet identified a suitable and affordable policy. In effect, this means we are not able at this time to implement a policy that we can extend to each chapter affiliated with AAW. Of course, chapters also may choose to seek liability coverage from providers in their local area. [A new cost for the club!]

You can announce in the newsletter that January's demonstration will be focusing on finish-turning dry, warped bowls. I'll be in charge of the demo, but may draw upon some of the others in the process. Aage

My name is Judd Stewart, the designer and manufacturer of the R4 Tool Cart "Kit" that was first introduced to the woodturning community in the AAW Journal (Dec 2011 pg 68). Sadly, the R4 "Kit" is no longer in production but I now offer the R5-P Plan-set. The 5 sheet (22" x 34") R5-P plan-set includes the following;

1. Bill of Material with sources, part numbers and qty.
2. A cut list of all wood parts
3. A graphic that shows an optimized placement/layout of parts for a 4' x 8' sheet of plywood (18MM Baltic Birch).

I will donate $6.50 per plan-set sold to the Richmond Woodturners treasury. The buyer needs to inform me of their club membership in the "special instruction" section on the PayPal check out page.
